USING TEMPLATES

- ❖ As previously noted, you can provide styling for every aspect of the platform.
- ❖ Global Styling and page design can be modified using theme and layout templates.
- ❖ Liferay also provides Application Display Templates (ADTs) for styling different aspects of applications, which have integrated the ADT framework.

TEMPLATE EXAMPLES

- ❖ Templates in Liferay consist of FreeMarker templates you can use with different resources.
- ❖ There are a number of resources on the platform where you can use templates for styling.
 - ❖ Assets: Web Content and Dynamic Data Lists are special content types; they have their own templates.
 - ❖ Applications: A number of applications such as the Asset Publisher, or Navigation, can be styled through ADTs.
 - ❖ Custom Applications: Custom-developed applications can also have ADTs attached, giving you stylistic control.
 - ❖ Notifications: You can provide branding for Workflow email notifications.
- ❖ Additionally, you can use Soy Templates and JSX templates when developing applications.

ASSET PUBLISHER ADT EXAMPLES

- ❖ Let's take a look at some default Asset Publisher ADTs:
